Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats

Strengths:

- The program benefits from energetic volunteer assistance throughout the state.
- Volunteers demonstrate ownership of the program and desire to participate in program processes.
- The program has dedicated funding, is largely self-sustaining by the end-users and has been managed in a frugal manner, keeping administrative costs at a low level.
- The program is engaged in formal and informal relationships with many diverse groups.
- Program staff are skilled and motivated, with a broad technical and historical knowledge of winter recreation activities and the administrative program at State Parks.
- Program administration benefits from advisory committees established by statute to carry out defined roles and responsibilities.

- The program works with over 125 partner vendors
- The program benefits from relationships with active project sponsors (including private, non-provide, state, federal, and counties)
- The program offered one of the first websites of State Parks, and also one of the first internationally to provide daily grooming reports on the web.
- The program has continued to improve the website each year, with on-line forms, maps, brochures, and contracts.
- The program was the first agency/organization, internationally, to provide Groomed Trail Maps for the users.
- The program is the only one in the state to provide a Groomed Cross Country Ski Trails Guide of all public and private grooming areas.
- The program provides wilderness informational brochures and signing on the trails.
- The program provides directional groomed trail signs to all landowners for free.
- The program was the first in the US to GPS trail systems and provide quality downloadable detailed PDF maps for free.
- It was the first program in the western states to provide "you are here" maps at junctions on the groomed trails.
- The program provides a groomer operator workshop and gives on-the-snow training every 3-5 years.
- The program manager has been recognized as a leader in cooperation by the USFS, and has received the International Administrator Award.
- The program has participated in development of internationally used web-based Snowmobile Safe Rider course, and a brochure regarding snowmobiling in the USA and Canada.
• The program has been proactive in educating youth in the proper use of snowmobiles and environmental awareness for free; and developed the 4-H Snowmobile Program and the Snowmobile Safety Program.
• The program has grown from a handful of Sno-Parks in the mid-1970’s to 120 Sno-Parks statewide, providing access to extensive trail systems, and providing fun in the snow to thousands of visitors each year.

Weaknesses:

• Volunteer resources are not fully utilized, and volunteer hours may not be accurately documented and reported.
• The program is sometimes unresponsive to volunteer input.
• There is a lack of definition regarding the authority, role and responsibilities of volunteers, staff and advisory committee members.
• The program is dependent upon formal and informal relationships with many diverse groups, but relationship structures are lacking and mutual responsibilities and expectations not clear.
• As the program has grown, State Parks’ staff time has become increasingly dominated by administrative requirements that reduce their availability to be in the field and cultivating relationships.
• Effective communications are not maintained among different levels of the program and volunteers.
• The program has not effectively managed conflicts between types of users, and may have made a faulty assumption regarding the compatibility of certain types of uses.
• No strategic plan exists for addressing future needs or changes in recreational use.
• There are few if any regional, corridor or localized plans that provide more specific planning for access and trail system improvement.
• The program lacks written policies, procedures and management or operating guidelines.
• Program staff have not received training targeted to enhance management effectiveness.
• Program financial resources could be more effectively deployed.
• Variability of revenue from snowmobile registrations and Sno-Park permit sales affect current funding levels and operations.
• Unpredictability of snow conditions makes budgeting of expenditures difficult. For example, in good snow years, funding may run out before the end of the season, and in low snow years, there may be an excess of funds.
• The Safety program is not reaching everyone it should be reaching, and not enough instructors are certified. It can be difficult to get instructional materials.

• In some areas near urban centers, Sno-Parks have become crowded, and have concentrated recreational users, leading to a higher degree of conflict between types of users and less opportunity for solitude.
• Non-motorized users are not organized on a state-wide basis.
There is lack of data regarding winter recreation activities.
Brochures, maps and publications are out-of-date and could be more user-friendly.
As a result of differences in funding mechanisms, non-motorized uses are under-funded.
Winter recreation law enforcement needs to be evaluated and better coordinated on a state-wide basis.
Having two advisory committees results in considerable duplication and increased administrative costs, and may present an obstacle to communication and coordination between snowmobile and non-motorized users.
Information regarding current trail conditions is not consistently up to date.

Opportunities:

- Further engaging the skills, talents, experience and passion of volunteers and stakeholder groups is necessary to support the program – volunteer resources can be further cultivated.
- Accurate documentation and reporting of volunteer hours would more effectively demonstrate the level of volunteer support enjoyed by the program.
- Development of partnerships with non-profit organizations, clubs, and landowners to build on-going relationships. Include links from State Parks’ website.
- Decentralization of certain functions through formal written agreements would supplement program staff, especially in the absence of increased program staffing levels and financial support, and improve relationships between volunteers and program staff.
- Streamlining of processes, such as the application process, would improve program efficiency.
- Documentation of operating guidelines provides an opportunity for review and improvement of program management.
- Delegation of management authority for certain day to day decisions to local level could improve program effectiveness.
- Cooperation among user groups would enhance program effectiveness.
- Providing adequate separation among incompatible uses would reduce user conflicts.
- Providing increased access to a wider range of snow-based recreational activities, including snow-play and back-country access.
- Relationships with local Chambers of Commerce would tie the program more closely with communities.
- Regional or corridor plans would provide more site-specific planning to address access and trail development issues.
- Enhancing opportunities for active outdoor winter recreation would also enhance the health and fitness of the general population.
- There is opportunity to increase the dialogue between the Snowmobile Advisory Committee and the Winter Recreation Advisory Committee to improve communications between motorized and non-motorized users. This could also be accomplished by combining the advisory committees.

- Advisory Committee members and Parks’ staff should meet with clubs and user groups to explain programs and funding mechanisms.

Threats:

- Failure to develop a comprehensive Strategic Plan would lead to ad hoc management decisions.
- Tight centralized control of program decisions without written policies and procedures undermines the confidence and trust of staff by program stakeholders.
- Not streamlining administrative processes could hamper program efficiency.
- Dramatic increases in fuel costs, increased prices for equipment and supplies, and increased access fees will increase the cost of recreation.
- No increase in funding will prevent growth or result in reductions in service.
- Access to public and private lands may be reduced or lost, due to development or lack of cooperation from land-owners.
- Volunteers may be less likely to volunteer.
- Elimination or loss of dedicated funding may reduce local control.
- Conflicts among user groups and use types could hamper program effectiveness.
- Climate change over the short and long term could reduce recreational opportunities.
- Reductions in federal funding may hamper cooperative efforts with the USFS, which is the largest trail system land owner.

Upper Level Objectives, Goals and Strategies

The following are proposed upper level objectives, supporting goals, some suggested strategies for attaining them, and selected targets and measurements to demonstrate performance. Those strategies in bold type are suggested priorities. Strategies followed by a dollar sign ($) indicate that additional funding will be necessary to implement the strategy.

Upper Level Objective 1. Access to snow-based recreation will be our primary product.

GOAL:

1. Recreational access opportunities are responsive to user demands, while reflecting sensitive environmental stewardship.

STRATEGIES:

A. Plan for more Sno-Parks, if trail systems can handle the additional capacity; and seek opportunities to expand trail systems to meet the needs of current and future populations, including non-groomed trail routes into backcountry areas ($).
B. Identify a list of desirable trailheads that currently do not have winter access, but have future potential for back country access.
C. Develop opportunities to provide “snowplay” areas, including sledding and tubing runs.
D. Pursue adequate plowed access to off-trail recreational activities, such as snowshoeing, climbing, backcountry camping, hunting, sledding and general snow-play ($).
E. Actively participate in land use planning processes carried out by various land management agencies to advocate for recreational access, and participate in annual meetings with land-owners.
F. Investigate the need for more “doggy” trails, skijoring and dog-sledding opportunities.
G. Explore the use of public transportation (shuttle buses, vans, etc.) to selected Sno-Park areas to alleviate parking problems.
H. Provide equipment rental opportunities at Sno-Parks.
I. Explore new opportunities for overnight lodging (cabins and yurts) and warming huts at Sno-Park areas and back-country areas accessed by trail ($).
J. Pursue permanent easements or long-term agreements for trail routes across public and private lands ($).
K. Improve definitions of roles and responsibilities of land owners and user groups.
TARGETS:
1. Plan for 10 additional trailheads and/or Sno-Parks to be established after 2013.
2. Establish 5 additional official Snow Play areas by 2013.
3. By 2010, establish 5 designated trails where dogs are allowed.
4. Equipment rental opportunities are available at Sno-Parks at Mount Spokane, the I-90 Corridor, and the Lake Wenatchee area by 2010.
5. Overnight lodging is available in the backcountry on three trail systems by 2013.

MEASUREMENTS:
1. The number of new trailheads or Sno-Parks opened each year.
2. The number of new Snow Play areas opened each year.
3. The number of trails designated where dogs will be allowed.
4. The number of new equipment rental venues made available.
5. New backcountry overnight lodging opportunities made available.

GOAL:

2. The Program has viable planning functions.

STRATEGIES:

A. Planning and development of future facilities and services will be responsive to user needs and concerns, will assess and address environmental impacts, safety concerns, overcrowding and use conflicts; and will involve stakeholders and the Advisory Committees.

B. Local area councils should be established for both motorized and non-motorized uses for the purpose of guiding trail grooming and future planning efforts.

C. Encourage local stakeholders and volunteers to cooperate with State Parks to develop area-specific plans that are guided by, consistent with, and help implement the Strategic Plan. As part of this, plan criteria must be developed and existing Sno-Parks also evaluated.

D. Provide the Strategic Plan and any regional or local plans that are developed, to the U.S. Forest Service, private resorts and other land owners for use in their planning activities.

E. Seek data on the number of motorized and non-motorized users in the state in a cooperative effort with outdoor equipment retailers and other public agencies.

F. Continue to survey users and land owners on a regular basis to identify present and future needs and provide feedback, including demographics or economic impacts. Consider surveying people coming off trail, regarding the services provided (snow removal, sanitary conditions, trail head and trail signing, trail surface, etc). ($)

G. Plan for more Sno-Parks and comprehensive trail systems that are easily accessed from population centers, to decrease drive times and help alleviate congestion at existing sites.

H. Planning and development of future Sno-Parks and trails will consider length of season and reliability of snow cover, potential links to other attractions and amenities, including national, state and local parks, historic sites, scenic views, and private lodging and food services.

I. Utilize the Recreation and Conservation Office (RCO), the Statewide Comprehensive Outdoor Recreation Plan (SCORP) and input from other governmental organizations (such as the U.S. Forest Service and counties) in the planning of facilities and services.

J. Promote recreation activities that enhance health and fitness.

K. Plan for a few world-class winter recreation destination sites at locations around the state.

TARGETS:
1. Over the next 5 years, 3 local area councils will be created to develop 3 area specific plans.
2. The U.S. Forest Service will consider the Strategic Plan and any subsequent area specific plans in developing their Forest Recreation Plans.
3. A user survey will be conducted in the next three years to collect data on the number of motorized and non-motorized users in the state in a cooperative effort with outdoor equipment retailers and other public agencies. The user survey will gather feedback to help identify present and future needs.

MEASUREMENTS:
1. The number of local area councils created and the number of area specific plans developed.
2. The number of Forest Recreation Plans responding to the Strategic Plan.
3. The number of users surveyed.

GOAL:

3. There is adequate separation of incompatible or conflicting recreational uses.

STRATEGIES:

A. Sno-Park areas should serve dedicated trail systems when possible to meet the needs of a variety of incompatible or conflicting uses.

B. Separate “snow-play” areas should be provided.

C. Create a code of ethics or trail etiquette for multiple use trails, and post at Sno-Parks.
D. Educate recreational users about the needs and desires of the various recreational users.
E. Where conflicts develop, manage uses more intensely, and consider alternating uses by time or space as a means to avoid conflicts.
F. Consider using Sno-Park hosts or other volunteers to provide on-site education concerning rules, regulations and trail etiquette.
G. Target enforcement efforts in response to incident reports and complaints ($).
H. Examine what other states and provinces are doing to mitigate use conflicts.
I. A compatibility index should be developed to help determine which uses are compatible and to what extent.
J. Prohibit wheeled vehicles from driving on groomed trails.

TARGETS:
1. Ten additional dedicated use trail systems will be designated by 2011.
2. By 2013, five new Snow Play areas are to be created that are separate from trail systems.
3. Trail etiquette signs will be posted at all Sno-Parks serving multiple use trail systems.
4. Enforcement resources will be focused in response to user conflicts, incidents and complaints reported.

MEASUREMENTS:
1. The number of dedicated use trail systems created each year.
2. The number of new Snow Play areas created each year.
3. The number of new trail etiquette signs installed each year.
4. The change in the number of law enforcement incident reports recorded over the next 5 years.

GOAL:

4. Well maintained, clearly signed and usable parking areas and trails, with accurate maps.

STRATEGIES:

A. Snow removal should be a first priority so that users can always expect the parking lots to be plowed.
A. Signing should be provided to clearly designate trails dedicated to certain uses, i.e. “Snowshoe only”, “Skijoring only”, “Dogs not permitted on Trail”, etc. and to let people know where they are, and where access is prohibited.
B. Install more restrooms where needed, and provide ADA compliant restrooms ($).
C. Update the trail signing guidelines regarding the use of directional arrows and implement new guidelines as they are developed ($).
D. Pursue opportunities to expand trail route identification and selection with volunteers, local clubs and organizations.

E. Publish and distribute improved and updated maps, brochures and bulletin boards showing the locations of recreational opportunities (including groomed and ungroomed trails and trailheads) ($).

F. Recruit trained volunteers to assist with limb and downed hazard tree removal and general trail maintenance during daylight hours.

G. Dog waste disposal units and baggies should be provided at Sno-Parks and the waste packed out. Signing should be provided reminding dog owners to clean up after their animals ($).

H. Annually review signing guidelines and update as needed to stay current with management issues, program direction and guidelines adopted by stakeholder organizations.

I. Pursue opportunities for the installation of permanent signing where feasible and where permitted by landowners, to minimize labor costs and to provide more effective trail signing.

J. Investigate new/better equipment and materials to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of trail route identification, selection and maintenance.

K. Review and enhance directional signing from highways and roads to parking areas and trailheads.

L. Ensure that adequate summer trail maintenance, improvement, rerouting and accurate signing continues at a level that meets operational guidelines and assures the proper management of resources ($).

TARGETS:
1. All Sno-Parks will have ADA compliant restrooms facilities available by the 2008/2009 season.

2. Update the trail signing guidelines regarding the use of directional arrows prior to the winter season of 2009-2010 and implement any new guidelines on-the-ground prior to the winter season following adoption.

3. All Sno-Park areas that permit dogs will have dog waste disposal baggies available within the next three years.

MEASUREMENTS:
1. The number of ADA complaint restrooms installed, and the number yet to be installed.

2. The number of trail systems where signing needs have been resolved.

3. The number of Sno-Parks and trailheads where dog waste disposal baggies have been provided.

GOAL:

5. Effective, safe trail grooming is provided.
STRATEGIES:

A. Local area councils should be established for both motorized and non-motorized uses for the purpose of guiding trail grooming and future planning efforts.
B. Implement “condition-responsive” grooming as opposed to “fixed-schedule” grooming, and provide flexibility for grooming schedules to address local conditions.
C. Apply cost-benefit and feasibility analyses when determining how to provide grooming services in any given area, considering private businesses, non-profit organizations, other agencies, or State Parks’ staff and equipment.
D. Analyze the need for additional groomed trail routes where necessary to reduce crowding, and improve trail safety and quality.
E. Establish a trail groomer operator training and certification program based upon IASA guidelines.
F. Establish a trail grooming monitoring and quality compliance programs considering financial, human and technological resources.
G. Seek volunteer snowmobilers to groom cross-country ski trails.
H. Investigate the feasibility of grooming narrower trails for snowmobiles (i.e. trails that are 5 to 6 feet wide.)
I. The need for more ungroomed trails should be evaluated.

MEASUREMENTS:

1. Adoption of new or revised grooming policy.
2. Change in the number and type of grooming contracts awarded.

Upper Level Objective 2. We will build enduring partnerships.

GOAL:

1. A vigorous, organized and respected volunteer program.

A. Accurately define the roles and responsibilities of volunteers, and provide related orientation and training.
B. Develop an effective Volunteer Agreement for use with individual volunteers and volunteer organizations that appropriately addresses liability.
C. Coordinate more closely with State Parks’ Volunteer Program to recruit volunteers, more accurately account for volunteer hours, spotlight volunteer efforts, and create volunteer rewards.
D. Core groups of volunteers need to be identified in each region to participate in local area councils that will develop local area-specific plans.
E. Increase the use of individual and group volunteers to carry out certain components of the program, such as monitoring, periodic evaluations, scheduling, and day-to-day operations.
F. Train volunteer “Ombudsmen” or “Sno-Park Hosts” that can be contacted on-site by users to supplement State Parks’ staff and troubleshoot issues needing attention, help with user surveys, register complaints, and do car counts.

TARGETS:
1. Each volunteer group will have a signed Volunteer Agreement on file.
2. Volunteer hours will be increased by 10% each year over the next 5 years.
3. Area councils will be established for every pertinent geographic area of the state.

MEASUREMENTS:
1. The number of Volunteer Agreements signed each year, and the change in volunteer hours recorded.

I. Provide agendas for Advisory Committee meetings at least one week before meetings, and disseminate Advisory Committee minutes within one month following meetings.
J. Program staff should receive training targeted to enhance management effectiveness ($).
K. Evaluate the program’s management and divisional reporting structure and identify administrative efficiencies. This should include a determination if the program needs additional staff to maintain or enhance service levels, and if funding support is available.

TARGETS:
1. As each service contract comes up for expiration or renewal, update the contracts to include performance standards.
2. Program staff training portfolios should be evaluated.
3. Work processes should be reviewed to identify administrative efficiencies and determine proper staffing levels.

MEASUREMENTS:
1. The number of contracts updated each year.
2. Training requirements completed by staff.
3. Administrative changes made to increase efficiency.

Upper Level Objective 5. We manage public resources in a consistent and responsible manner.

GOAL:

1. Winter Recreation services are adequately and equitably funded.

STRATEGIES:

A. Integrate Winter Recreation Program funding more fully into State Parks’ overall budget process, and explore authorization from the Governor’s Office and the Legislature for the agency to seek additional financial support for the Winter Recreation Program ($).
B. Reciprocal Sno-Park Permit arrangements with other states should be reexamined and discontinued if not in the financial interests of the Program.
C. Seek to add sales tax onto the cost of the Sno-Park permit.
D. Advocate for regional or state-wide organizations (comparable to the Washington State Snowmobile Association) that gives voice to non-motorized recreational users, to coordinate legislative relations. Consider approaching the Washington Trails Association and other similar organizations with this idea.

E. Funds collected from Commercial Use permittees and Concessionaires that use Sno-Park areas should be directed into the Winter Recreation Program budget.

F. Higher Sno-Park permit fees for private charter buses and vehicles with larger capacities, or requiring larger parking spaces, should be explored.

G. Applications for funding will give preference to applications that show local volunteer and stakeholder support, and/or that involve multiple funding partners, and how projects link to local and regional systems and local economic interests.

H. Applications to the Advisory Committees for funding should be consistent with the Strategic Plan and any local or regional plans that are subsequently developed.

I. Scoring of funding applications by each Advisory Committee should consider the impacts of the projects on other users, and there should be coordination in project funding between the Advisory Committees.

J. With concurrence of the Governor’s Office, support legislative efforts to obtain additional funding in the snowmobile account by raising the cap on gas tax distributions.

K. With concurrence of the Governor’s Office, support legislation seeking additional snowmobile registration funding and user fee revenue to address fund shortages caused by inflation, revenue shortfalls and increased grooming and snow removal costs.

L. Examine Sno-Park permit fees to ensure that revenues are adequately covering costs of access for non-motorized activities, and to provide for development of new areas and expansion of trail systems.

M. With concurrence of the Governor’s Office and the Legislature, investigate other fund sources for non-motorized uses, such as equipment taxes or trail pass fees, as possible ways of increasing funding for non-motorized uses.

N. Evaluate effective use of state ownership of grooming equipment by tracking the full ownership cost of the state-owned equipment.

O. Ensure efficient and effective use of established Accounts (Snowmobile and Non-Motorized), keeping administrative costs at historically low levels.

P. Find a way to ensure that all snowmobiles are registered.

TARGETS:

1. With concurrence of the Governor’s Office and the Legislature, seek to provide supplemental agency funding of the Winter Recreation Program.

2. Increase funding for the Winter Recreation Program by 25% by 2013.

3. Study establishment of statewide non-profit organization that represents the interests of non-motorized users.

MEASUREMENTS:

1. Change in administrative costs to maintain advisory committee assistance.
2. Change in funding levels for the Winter Recreation Program.
3. Establishment of statewide non-profit organization that represents the interests of non-motorized users.

GOAL:

2. We plan ahead to compensate for variables that affect service delivery.

STRATEGIES:

A. Establish snowmobile and non-motorized emergency funds that can be used to supplement program expenses and provide flexibility in years when snow is abundant and the season can be extended.
B. Target funding for Sno-Parks and trailheads that have more consistent snow cover and at higher altitudes, and vary season start and end dates based on local conditions.
C. Consider reducing services at under utilized Sno-Parks or eliminating Sno-Parks to enable adequate funding of the remainder of the system.

TARGETS:
1. Have contingency funds identified by the 2009-2010 season.
2. An inventory of Sno-Parks that are organized by reliable snow accumulations and length of season.
3. Advisory Committees will provide recommendations on reductions.

MEASUREMENTS:
1. Establishment of contingency funds and their amounts.
2. Inventory complete.
3. Reduction recommendations.
